

Tito Assured Loan If He Stays Alive

By JOHN SCALI

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia is considered virtually a cinch to get an American government loan—provided he stays alive and independent from Moscow.

Top government officials said Secretary of State Acheson's strong support for Yugoslavia's applications clearly foreshadows a favorable verdict.

Acheson and Ambassador Cavendish in Belgrade are reported vigorously urging the export-import bank not only to approve Tito's bid but to do it quickly.

The Yugoslav dictator is said to be in need of quick economic help from the United States and other western countries to help him weather the economic blockade now threatening to strangle his country.

The Yugoslav government was disclosed last night to have applied formally to the bank for a credit of around $25,000,000 needed to buy American machinery for its copper, lead and zinc mines.

Tito is reported to have turned to the bank, an American government agency, because he feels he cannot wait possibly six months for a credit from the International bank.

This is the first time the Yugoslav government has turned to the United States government for a direct loan since Tito defied Moscow's orders some 15 months ago and split from the Russian bloc in western Europe.

Government officials familiar with the Yugoslav application said that thus far there has been no sign of opposition from Secretary of Defense Johnson.

Yugoslavia would be able to pay for the credit, they said, by increasing shipments of strategic copper, lead, zinc and chrome ore to the United States.

This would have a double advantage for this country:

It would give Tito the dollars necessary to repay the loan on installments, plus additional money to spend in western markets for essential food stuffs and consumables for his people.

And it would increase the stockpile in the United States of these strategic minerals—something that is bound to appeal to the secretary of defense.

Minimum Wage Bill Near Vote

Passage By Nightfall Predicted In Senate

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), shepherding a 75-cent minimum wage bill through the Senate, today expressed hope of its passage by nightfall.

Pepper, chairman of a labor subcommittee which prepared the bill, told a reporter as debate went into its second day:

"I think we may pass it tonight if we stay in session long enough."

A bill fixing a 75-cent minimum wage—instead of the present 40 cents an hour—has been passed by the House, but it would apply the minimum to fewer workers.

If the Senate passes the pending bill a conference committee will have to reconcile differences between the two versions.

Pepper told the Senate yesterday that, in order to get the 75-cent minimum approved, the Senate Labor committee abandoned efforts at this session to make it apply to more workers.

However, in addition to raising the minimum, the bill before the Senate would amend the existing law to:

1. Prevent the employment of children under 16 in hazardous mining or manufacturing occupations.

2. Authorize the wage-hour administrator to act in behalf of employees by suing to recover wages due for over-time or underpayment.

3. Exempt small contract-offices of the Western Union Telegraph company from wage-hour provisions.

Ouster On Liquor Commission Stirs Up Libel Charges

Lansing, Aug. 30 (AP)—Controversy over the firing of Gen. L. A. Kunzig as State Liquor Control Commission business manager today brought a threat of a libel suit against Harry Henderson, member of the Commission.

Raymond R. Campbell, counsel for John R. Schlinkert, director of the Commission's purchasing division, said he had been authorized by his client to file a libel suit against Henderson "for a substantial amount" if Henderson did not retract statements made to the press regarding Schlinkert's abilities.

Henderson, in a press attack on the Democratic majority of the Commission for firing Kunzig, alleged that the dismissal was a Democratic plan to reward Schlinkert for political contributions. Schlinkert is a Democrat, Henderson a Republican.

At that time Henderson was quoted as saying Schlinkert desired to take over Kunzig's job and was not fitted for it.

CRASH FATAL TO 4

Jackson (AP)—A highway crash near Parma, a week ago claimed its fourth victim Monday when John Hayes, 62-year-old Southern Michigan prison guard, died in Mercy hospital. His wife and two others were killed in the collision.

Legion Starts 12-Hour Parade In Philadelphia

Million Spectators Jam Sidewalks

Philadelphia, Aug. 30 (AP)—A gay task force of gaudily-dressed American Legionnaires began a 12-hour parade maneuver today to capture Philadelphia.

Drums rolled, bugles blared, strutting girls in pretty costumes twirled batons. Martial tunes filled the air. So did confetti and ticker tape—and the cheering applause of a million Philadelphians and visitors.

The Quaker City surrendered happily to the invasion—the Legion's 31st annual convention parade.

U. S. military and naval units led off the five-mile march directly behind the Legion's parade marshals. The crack 116-man army band moved like a precision machine up Broad Street to city hall.

Before the parade ends, about midnight, more than 30,000 persons and some 160 drum and bugle corps will have filed past the reviewing stand.

Legionnaires boast there's no bigger parade anywhere else in the world.

It snarled downtown traffic to a standstill.

The parade is the sole official Legion activity on this second day of the convention.

President Truman, the nation's No. 1 Legionnaire and a delegate-at-large from Missouri, came from the White House yesterday to keynote the opening sessions. He described his address as one that will affect the future of the United States.

The smiling chief executive was cheered wildly by his Legion comrades and nearly 100,000 Philadelphians who showered him with confetti and ticker tape as he motored through downtown city streets.

Mr. Truman told Legion delegates the U. S. will help Great Britain solve her present financial crisis.

The president said flatly that "a sound and expanding economy is essential to world peace." He insisted the U. S. will examine Britain's currency dilemma in a "spirit of friendliness and helpfulness."

"The democratic nations are not proposing to interfere with one another's internal politics," Mr. Truman said.

Then he called attention to the "terrible after-effects of war" and the economic crisis that has embraced the world. His answer: A four-point, long-range program:

1. "Encouraging American business to make productive investments abroad in increasing volume."

2. "Planning to help the people in under-developed areas learn modern industrial and agricultural methods."

3. "Continue our well-established policy of negotiating reciprocal trade agreements in order to reduce barriers to international trade."

4. "Encouraging closer regional ties among nations in order to lower trade barriers and increase production."

Mr. Truman said the world's free nations "have not yet achieved the sound and expanding world economy that is necessary for lasting prosperity and peace."

Rhode Island Uncle Weds Needy Niece Under Levitical Law

Providence, R. I., Aug. 30 (AP)—Rhode Island law made it possible for an uncle and a niece from Brooklyn, N. Y., to wed here last night.

Mendel Rosenbloom, 55, a salesman, and his sister's daughter, Mrs. Regina Poststrong, 36, were married by Rabbi Morris G. Silk at Ahavath Shalom Synagogue.

The choice Rhode Island because, they said, it is the only state in the Union which sanctions a marriage approved by Levitical law.

Both had spouses who died in German concentration camps during World War II.

Mrs. Poststrong was penniless. Rosenbloom had insufficient means to support her separately. The marriage was the only alternative.

While Jewish law says that a nephew may not marry his aunt, it holds not only that an uncle may marry his niece but that, if the niece is in need, such a marriage is a good and worthy deed.

Country Store Robbed In Barrage Of Dishes

Hudson, Mich., Aug. 30 (AP)—A shower of dishes and an insect bomb, hurled by an irate woman shopkeeper, failed to deter two masked robbers near here last night.

The two men held up the store of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Knott, one mile west of here. They took about $275 from the cash register.

Mrs. Knott told officers that when she protested the holdup men began hurling dishes and an insect bomb, one of the intruders told her to "behave yourself, or I'll cut your heart out."

Economy Drive Bogs Down In Senate, 3 Votes Short

"DOLLAR CRISIS" BRINGS THEM TOGETHER — These are the major figures who will take part in the Anglo-American talks beginning in Washington, Sept. 3, on England's "dollar crisis." Left to right, are: Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, British Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps, and Canadian Finance Minister Douglas Abbott.

Hawaii Resists Dock Picketing

Federal Court Backs Up Government

By LEIF ERICKSON

Honolulu, Aug. 30 (AP)—The territory of Hawaii today planned to resist picketing of its dock operations by striking CIO Longshoremen. Both government stevedoring and picketing against it were upheld by a federal court.

U. S. District Judge J. Frank McLaughlin and Delbert E. Metzger announced the double-bitted decision yesterday. They said the territorial government could continue in the stevedoring business which it began after seizing the islands' strike-plugged docks under an emergency law passed by the Hawaiian legislature Aug. 6.

The judges also ruled the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union could keep on picketing the government-operated docks. The union's 2,000 stevedores struck 122 days ago to raise their $1.40 hourly pay by 32 cents.

The ILWU had challenged the law in federal court. It had asked an order temporarily restraining the government from operating the docks. The two judges said their ruling upholding territorial dock operations and the union's right to continue picketing would be effective until they completed a hearing on the union's application for a permanent injunction.

Bolivia Drafts Men To Halt Revolution

La Paz, Bolivia, Aug. 30 (AP)—Fighting for survival against a spreading rightist revolution, the government today began a draft of all citizens.

Reservists, 20 to 24, were called to the colors in La Paz and orders for mobilization have been issued to all men 19 to 50.

They will be called upon to fight the revolt against the middle-of-the-road government which broke out in scattered sections Saturday and now controls all Bolivia's large cities except La Paz.

Greatest government efforts so far have been directed against Cochabamba, a city of 90,000 southeast of La Paz, where the rebels are strongly entrenched.

Airforce planes bombed the town yesterday for the third time, but reports said they did little damage. The raids terrorized the inhabitants, however, and indignation against the act seems to have added new recruits to the rebellion.

The Revolutionists, members of the National Revolutionary Party (MNR), are apparently still in control of Santa Cruz, Potosi and Sucre, all southeast of La Paz. Reports yesterday said the garrisons in the extreme north had also gone over to the Rebels, which, if true, spread the revolt country-wide.

The present government was elected following a violent uprising against the MNR, then in control, in 1945. It governs 4,000,000 persons living in this landlocked country high in the Andes mountains.

Victor Paz Estenssoro, exiled leader of the MNR, was interned by Uruguay yesterday on suspicion of having engineered the revolt.

The official press bureau linked the underground members with "a certain western imperialism" but did not identify the western power.

Details of the purported plot were announced after a secret trial at which six persons were condemned to death, 10 given life imprisonment and an unspecified number lesser prison terms. Ten of those tried were acquitted.

The announcement termed members of the group spies and terrorists and said they were tried on charges of high treason and spying on behalf of the western power "with which they had been in contact."

The government claimed its police had played a cat-and-mouse game with the alleged conspirators and waited until they were all set to begin the revolution before moving in to nab them.

The announcement said the group was attempting to "prepare an armed conspiracy aimed at crushing the people's democratic regime."

Des Moines, Aug. 30 (AP)—The State of Iowa today sent state World War II bonus checks totaling $2,000 to Mrs. Thomas F. Sullivan of Waterloo.

She is the mother of the five Sullivan brothers who lost their lives together when the USS Juno was sunk off Guadalcanal Nov. 13, 1942.

The brothers were George, 28, Francis, 26, Joseph, 24, Albert, 22, and Madison, 23. They enlisted together Jan. 3, 1942. They said they wanted to avenge the death of a pat in the bombing of Pearl Harbor.

Their deaths were the heaviest loss of any gold star parents in the nation in World War II.

Garbo Comes Back — Hollywood, Aug. 30 (AP)—Greta Garbo will go before the cameras again next month.

Producer Walter Wanger yesterday said the Swedish actress now is in Rome, where the movie, "The Duchess of Langeais," will go into production Sept. 15. She made her last Hollywood film eight years ago.

Muskegon's Relief Burden Will Be Assumed By State

Saginaw, Mich., Aug. 30 (AP)—Muskegon will have the help of an unprecedented $400,000 state welfare commission relief program in its drive to beat an unemployment crisis reportedly worse than the depths of the depression.

For the remaining four months of the year, the commission decided at its meeting here yesterday, the state will assume Muskegon's direct relief burden.

Commission policy previously has restricted direct state aid to matching funds until the county load passed one mill of equalized valuation. Then a more liberal policy could be applied if the commission so wished.

Acting commission chairman C. H. Runciman conceded that the new decision will "establish a precedent that will have other hard-hit counties coming to us."

Finances Wrecked — The chairman of the Muskegon county board of supervisors finance committee, Joseph Chihak, member of a 14-man delegation which testified before the commission, said the county's finances already are in such a state that the county had to borrow $400,000 June 1 to see it through the remainder of the year.

Of that amount $100,000 went for general welfare, of which direct relief is a part. The general fund now has cost the county $377,000.

Under the one-mill direct relief load restriction set up by the state, Muskegon county would have to spend $186,000 on direct relief before the state could step in.

The county's direct relief total already is $146,000, Chihak said, and will reach $196,000 by mid-September.

On the basis of yesterday's ruling, Muskegon county will be free of any additional direct relief burden from the state of next month until the end of the year, no matter how much it totals.

Chihak estimated the direct load at $81,000 monthly.

Collision With Bus Kills Three In Car

Chesterton, Ind., Aug. 30 (AP)—A South Bend, Ind., man and his wife and the women's elderly father lost their lives in the collision of their car with a Greyhound bus near here late yesterday.

One passenger on the Toledo-to-Chicago bus was hospitalized and 27 of the 32 others aboard were shaken up and bruised. The smashup occurred on a four-lane strip of U. S. Highway 20, one mile east of here and 10 miles west of Michigan City.

The dead were identified by state police as Archie Rubberg McIntyre, 67, of South Bend; his wife, 63-year-old Lillian Mae McIntyre, and her father, O. E. Reynolds, 92, Chicago.

Spending Slash To Be Issue In 1950 Campaign

Defense Fund Calls For $14,800,000,000

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—A Senate economy drive which had built up steam for months appeared bogged down at last today following final Senate action—long overdue—on billions of dollars in appropriations.

In the final voting yesterday on a $14,800,000,000 defense money bill, economy advocates actually showed a good-sized majority, pushing an amendment which would have required President Truman to cut government expenses five to 10 per cent, they summoned a total of 49 votes against only 28 for the opposition.

But that was not enough. It fell three votes short of the two-thirds margin which Vice President Barkley, the Senate's presiding officer, had ruled necessary.

Setback For Taft — That appeared to put the whole economy question over until the 1950 congressional campaigns, in which it is expected to be a major issue.

The proposed rider would have required Mr. Truman to chop from two to four and a half billion dollars from the estimated $45,000,000,000 he asked Congress to authorize for government spending this fiscal year, which started July 1.

Its defeat marked a hard-won victory for Democratic Leader Lucas who must run for re-election next year in Illinois.

It was a major setback for two Southern Democrats, Senators McClellan of Arkansas and Byrd of Virginia, and two top Republican leaders, Senators Wherry of Nebraska and Taft of Ohio.

With the economy amendment out of the way the Senate quickly defeated an anti-oleomargarine rider sponsored by Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) and a last minute send-it-back-to-committee economy move by Senator Douglas (D-Ill.).

Then it sent the huge defense appropriation bill back to the House for action on Senate changes slashing nearly $1,400,000,000 from the House-approved total.

House leaders have served notice they will resist most of the Senate reductions, although the House is now on vacation and won't be able to consider the bill until Sept. 21.

Finally the Senate ordered a $275,000,000 reduction in funds for stockpiling strategic materials.

Final congressional action on the defense measure and five other major money bills is stalled until Senate-House conference committees reach agreement on differences between the two bodies and those compromises are cleared again by both Houses.

The differences involve bills totalling nearly $30,000,000,000, or about three-fourths of the federal expenditures.

Small Business Would Be Aided

Potter And Bennett Have Identical Bills

Washington—Republican Congressmen John Bennett, of Oregon, and Charles Potter, of Cheboygan, introduced identical "small business loan" bills on the last day before the House recess.

With this week's Labor department announcement of four Michigan "critical unemployment areas", the bills take on added importance for their home state. (Thirty-two emergency areas were named. Michigan "E" areas include: Jackson, Port Huron, Muskegon and the Upper Peninsula copper region.)

Purpose of the Bennett-Potter legislation is to liberalize Reconstruction Finance Corporation lending policies for small business. Immediate aim is to encourage such loans to head off small business unemployment.

The bills would adapt for small business the RFC plan to give priority to loan requests from troubled areas. Special provisions modify requirements on interest rates, terms, collateral and other conditions on loans up to $250,000 in these areas.

A joint statement issued by both congressmen contends, "In limiting the benefits of our bills to distressed areas we are acting in the belief that maintaining and expanding private payrolls is far better than relief or public work."

According to Potter and Bennett, mail received in both offices blames a substantial part of recent layoffs to small businesses unable to raise additional capital needed to meet growing domestic and foreign competition.

Teachers Open 4-Day Meeting

Pre-School Confab At Junior High

A four-day pre-school teachers conference for Escanaba and Gladstone teachers opened this morning at the junior high school here and will continue through Friday afternoon.

Conference consultants are Dr. John J. Lee, dean of the graduate school, Wayne university, Detroit; Miss Esther L. Middlewood, director of mental health education, Michigan State Department of Mental Health and Fred Miller, consultant, Bureau of School Services, University of Michigan Extension.

Dr. Lee addressed the conference this morning on the subject, "Human Relations in Education." He declared that teachers should understand the abilities and aspirations of every child.

"We have more people in our hospitals every day than we have students in colleges, and more people in hospitals for mental illness than people in hospitals for physical illness," Dr. Lee said.

The educator stressed the fact that teachers are in a noble profession and have earned the respect of the general public. He added that teachers likewise have great responsibilities to make the educational system fit properly and adequately into American society, to meet the challenge of today's problems.

"Schools today have a far broader function than in the past year," Dr. Lee said. "Democracy is working against its own principles. We are gradually legislating away the liberties and freedoms upon which our country was founded."

Dr. Lee warned the teachers that differences and conflicts in the public schools must be resolved by the profession to avoid a loss in public confidence.

Hugh Grow, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, was the main speaker at the afternoon session today. His subject was "Escanaba, the Community."

Miss Middlewood will speak on the subject, "What Makes Them Behave That Way?" at the session

Walter Peters To Head Schools At Rapid River

Meeting Tomorrow Night In Gladstone

Rapid River, Mich.—Walter Peters of Eau Claire, formerly of Escanaba, was engaged at a special meeting of the board of education last night as the new superintendent of the Masonville-Ensign-Bay de Noc agricultural school district.

He succeeds R. P. Bowers, who resigned recently to take the superintendency of the Bellevue schools.

Mr. Peters was born in Escanaba. Following his graduation from the Escanaba high school, he received his bachelor of arts degree from Western Michigan College of Education in Kalamazoo in 1938 and his master's from George Peabody Institute in Nashville, Tenn., in 1942.

He taught two years in a high school in Atlanta, Ga., and was principal and director of the Pearl River junior college in Mississippi for another two years. He returned to the Upper Peninsula to head the McMillan township schools for two years and then went to Eau Claire in Berrien county, Lower Michigan, to head the school system there. During the war, he was employed as personnel director of a large industry at Eau Claire.

Mr. Peters is married and has two children. He is expected to assume his new position here the latter part of the week.

The board of education also accepted the resignation of Mrs. R. P. Bowers, who has served as a teacher in the high school here. Teaching assignments will be announced by Supt. Peters after he takes charge of his new duties.

The Masonville-Ensign-Bay de Noc district schools will open on Tuesday morning, Sept. 6. The hot lunch program will get underway on the first day.

School buses will run on the same schedule as last year.

Grand Rapids Mother Faces Court Charge For Drowning Infant

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 30 (AP)—Charged with manslaughter in the drowning of the youngest of her nine children, Mrs. Goldie Heitje faced superior court trial today.

She waived a preliminary hearing before police judge Edward Burleson yesterday in the drowning of 6-month-old Gary Lee Heitje one week ago. She furnished $1,000 bond.

Policewoman Mary Henton declared Mrs. Heitje told of placing Gary in the bathtub with three-year-old John and two-year-old Barbara while she went outdoors.

Five of the surviving children are in the care of Kent county Juvenile Home, the policewoman said, while two others were taken by an aunt, and one remains with the mother.

The quinoa plant, which grows in the Andes at altitudes of 12,000 and 15,000 feet, is useful as food, drink and medicine.

Wednesday morning at 9:15, after which teachers' meetings will be held in Rooms 204, 205 and 234.

"Do Adults Really Behave?" is the subject of an address to be given Thursday morning by Mr. Miller, followed by group meetings at 10:00 and an address, "And, in Conclusion" at 11 o'clock by Dr. Lee.

Group meetings are scheduled Thursday afternoon and at 6:00 p. m. the retailers division of the Chamber of Commerce will entertain the teachers at a dinner at the Escanaba Country club.

Miss Lydia Curran, Australian exchange teacher of Jackson, Mich., will be the guest speaker.

Group meetings also are scheduled throughout the day Friday.

Tourist Council Will Convene

Meeting Tomorrow Night In Gladstone

The Delta County Tourist Council will meet at the Gladstone city hall at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, President Walter O'Brien announces.

One of the questions to be discussed is whether publication of the Baies de Noquet should be continued through the hunting season.

Mr. O'Brien stated today that the Delta county tourist business has been highly satisfactory this season. The council will make plans to stimulate business during the fall season.

Miss White Has Busy Schedule As U. P. Fair Queen

Gladstone, Aug. 30—Miss Judy White, Gladstone's Upper Peninsula state fair queen, is spending a few days at Three Lakes, Wis., as guest of the Northern Air Hotel Spa management. She is accompanied by her chaperone, Mrs. Gunther C. Meyland, of Marquette.

She will return to Gladstone Thursday and fly to Detroit to be the guest of the Chrysler corporation until Sept. 6, after which she will be entertained as a guest of honor at the Michigan fair in Detroit.

Infant Passenger In Auto Involved In 3 Car Accident Dies

Mary Ann Bedard, three-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edsel P. Bedard, 316 South 8th street, a passenger in the Bedard car involved in a three-car crash on US-241 in Harris township, died at the family home at 7 this morning.

State police of the Gladstone post reported this morning that Victor Lundgren, Menominee county prosecutor, and a pathologist, whose name was not reported, were en route to Escanaba to perform an autopsy to determine the cause of the death.

It was not at first believed that anyone in the accident had been injured.

The mishap occurred when Henry Philimomen, 24, Harris township Indian, attempted to drive past Bedard and swung back and hit the rear of the Bedard car upon seeing the approaching car driven by George Krutch, 67, Harris farmer. Krutch's car hit the front end of the Bedard car.

Philimomen was given a summons for drunken driving, and Krutch was given a ticket for being unable to stop his car within the distance of clear vision. Bedard was not at fault, it was reported.

The infant, the Bedard's only child, was born in Escanaba August 4. Surviving in addition to the parents are the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin LaFave, Escanaba, and Mr. and Mrs. George Bedard, Vulcan, and the great-grandmothers, Mrs. Alvina Trudell, Escanaba, and Mrs. Flora LaFave, who lives in California.

The body will be in state at the LaFave funeral home at 10 a. m. Wednesday and services will be held at 2 Wednesday afternoon at the funeral home chapel with Rev. Louis Cappel, assistant pastor of St. Ann's, officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Straits Problem To Be Discussed

Traffic Conference
At Blaney Sept. 18

Transportation facilities between Michigan's two peninsulas will be discussed at a meeting to be held Sunday, Sept. 18, at the Playhouse in Blaney Park.

At the meeting, called by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, it is hoped that ideas and resolutions on the traffic problem at the Straits of Mackinac will be developed.

Those ideas will be presented for discussion at the meeting of the Bureau and the Inter-Peninsula Communications commission in Iron Mountain Thursday, Oct. 13.

The commission was created and members to it appointed by Governor G. Mennen Williams. Its purpose is to study and offer suggestions for improving the transportation between the peninsulas.

George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the Bureau, points out that the bottleneck at the Straits is a serious problem.

"The lack of adequate transportation facilities from Michigan's two peninsulas at the Straits presents a number one problem in Michigan today," Bishop said. "These inadequate transportation facilities restrict the flow of both tourist business and commercial goods between Michigan's two peninsulas."

Michigan's Outbreak Of Polio Slows Up

Lansing (AP)—Michigan's current polio outbreak is "definitely on the downgrade," the state health department reported Monday.

69 new cases were reported over the weekend, bringing the total for the year to 1,382.

Seven additional deaths brought the season total of 86 fatalities. Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the department's bureau of communicable disease control, said a check of the onset dates of cases recently reported showed that the outbreak is slowing up substantially.

Dissolution Of Powers Asked

Alfred Lawrence Is Movement Sponsor

Powers, Mich.—A petition proposing dissolution of the village of Powers will be presented to the village council at its first meeting in September, it was reported by Alfred Lawrence, sponsor of the movement.

Lawrence said that under state law, if signatures of 25 per cent of the registered voters are obtained on the petition it is mandatory upon the village council to call a special election within 30 days for submission of the proposal to the people.

Then, Lawrence said, if the plan is approved, the board of supervisors will administer the dissolution of the village and transfer funds to the township government which would become the governing body.

Powers is one of three Menominee county communities incorporated as villages. The others are Stephenson and Daggett. Each maintains its government and administers the village affairs. Powers was incorporated as a village in 1915 under a legislative act.

Lawrence reported today that he had about 50 signatures to the dissolution petition and that only 33 signatures are needed, because the registered voters of the village total 130. Lawrence said if every voter who signed the petition would go to the polls at the special election it would carry by a wide margin because 100 per cent voter turnout is rare. There were only 23 votes cast in last spring's village election.

Lawrence said he isn't "mad at anybody" and described the movement as purely economical. He said it costs about $1,000 a year to run the village and except for garbage collection once or twice a year the people of Powers aren't getting any more than the people of Spalding, which is unincorporated and governed by the Spalding township board.

He said Spalding had better street lights and just as good or better sidewalks and if the dissolution goes through and the government reverts to the township, the businessmen and taxpayers of Powers would be saved the $1,000 it now costs to operate the village government.

Sabourin this weekend were Cecile LaBranche and Gloria Brooks of Detroit and Pat and Fay Milligan of Foster City.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Richer have returned from a business trip to Green Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Neault of St. Paul are spending a week at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Potvin.

Father Keller Out To Change World Via Christophers

By ED CREACH
(For Hal Boyle)

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—When James Keller says he's out to change the world, a lot of people listen.

For one thing, he's a big, quietly persuasive Catholic priest with a no-nonsense air about him. He resembles his friend Spencer Tracy.

For another thing, he's a best-selling author who has banded more than 100,000 Catholics, Protestants and Jews into a movement called the Christophers.

Their aim, in their own words: to change the World.

"The U. S.," Father Keller says, "is being undermined by a fanatical group of men and women who hate God and sneer at the Declaration of Independence, with its stress on our God-given rights."

"We want to stop this. And we hope to do it by putting men and women of good will into jobs where they can be a force for good and order."

"There has been too much shouting against 'subversives.' The time is here for action—for offering something better than the subversives can offer."

Novel Just Published
The Christophers are in the news on several fronts:

A novel which won the $15,000 first prize in their literary contest has just been published. Its title is "Call It Treason." The author, George Howe, is a Protestant.

The Christophers are trying to establish training schools in all parts of the country, to guide "men and women of good will" into key jobs where they can make their influence felt.

And Father Keller himself is reading final proofs on a new book, "Three Minutes a Day" to be published by Doubleday in October. His last book, "You Can Change the World," sold 200,000 copies.

I went to see Father Keller because I had been hearing a good deal about misunderstanding and bad feeling among religious groups, and I wanted to know if there was another side to the story.

The man in the Roman collar is sure that there is.

"The Christophers," he said, "are people of all faiths. Some have no particular faith."

"We're all sorts of people—housewives, actors, employers, union officials—"

"We concentrate on a few fields—teaching, government work, labor-management, and the spreading of ideas by radio, movies, publishing and so on."

"Why? Because that's where

Escanaba Elks Sign Up For Blood Bank

Active support of the American Red Cross blood bank campaign has been pledged by Escanaba lodge 354, B. P. O. Elks. Members have been asked to contact the Elks club steward and fill out registration cards designating the hour and day convenient for making their blood donations.

Facilities are being provided at the Escanaba junior high school for receiving blood volunteers on Sept. 19, 20 and 21.

Parochial Schools Open In Escanaba Tuesday, Sept. 6

The parochial schools in Escanaba will commence on Tuesday, Sept. 6, on which date all students of St. Ann's school will register for the coming year. Enrollment at St. Joseph's school will take place August 30.

The enrollment at this date tends toward a higher level than in previous years.

St. Ann's school will have three new staff members this year. Sister M. Patrice, Sister Judith and Sister Aquilina. Sister Patrice will be the principal. All the other faculty members remain the same as in the previous year.

subversives are most active. "By 'subversives' we don't mean Communists alone. We mean those who are against what normal, decent Americans are for. Such things as divine truth and human integrity."

Million Members Needed
"Probably not more than one American in 100 is working against these things. But that adds up to more than 1,000,000 persons. It means that we'll need more than 1,000,000 Christophers."

I asked a couple of questions that a Protestant friend of mine had suggested: Is there opposition to the Christophers because their founder is a priest? Any suspicion that its aims are sectarian?

Father Keller smiled. "Why don't you look over some of our correspondence?" he said.

So I did. There were letters of support from Catholics; from a Methodist ministerial student in Georgetown, Texas; from an Episcopal rector in Beverly Hills, Calif.; from a Jewish television executive in Chicago.

read the letters and others like them.

"Father," I asked, "are you going to get a million Christophers? Are they really going to change the World?"

"With God's help," said Father Keller promptly, "Yes."

Strange as it may seem, there are a lot of hog raisers who don't seem to realize that asking for "hog concentrate" alone is like saying, "I want to buy some pigs."

You wouldn't take just any bunch of pigs offered you . . . you don't buy "pigs in a poke." You want to know what sort of pigs you're buying: breed, weight, condition, and so on.

We're proud of the fact that our hog concentrate isn't just any hog concentrate. It is a carefully formulated and fortified concentrate, designed to help put on market weight in the least time . . . and cost.

This quality hog concentrate is amply fortified with all the essential vitamins, and minerals which are so often missing in grains. It also contains high quality proteins which, in combination with the vitamins and minerals, helps your hogs to convert fully all the other ingredients of your feed into meat, bone and fat.

Rioting Halts Robeson Concert

WAR veterans who set off a massed battle with concert-goers in Peekskill, N. Y., Saturday night to prevent a scheduled appearance of Paul Robeson at a picnic concert certainly contributed nothing in this instance to the cause of democracy for which they fought so valiantly and successfully in the recent war.

The war veterans, about 500 strong, battled about 5,000 concert-goers, smashed the concert stage, then set fire to some of the campchairs set up for the recital. In the melee at least eight persons were injured, two of them seriously.

The resentment by war veterans of Paul Robeson's political activities and Robeson's views on world affairs is understandable enough. Robeson's Communist leanings are in direct conflict with the liberties which the soldiers fought to preserve. Democracy, however, cannot prevail by mob rule. The freedoms for which the soldiers fought included among others the right of individuals to attend concerts, even left-wing concerts, if they desire, without interference.

Veterans in general surely will not approve of the action taken by the band of former soldiers at Peekskill Saturday.

Noiseless Popcorn Bag Is Invented

ADD to the list of great inventions of 1949 a noiseless popcorn bag.

A sample copy of the rustle-proof bag arrived in the editor's mail this morning. We gave it the wrinkle test and it passed with flying colors. You can crunch it, twist it, even tear it without the unpleasant, nerve-racking sounds that are disturbing to theater patrons.

The noiseless popcorn bag cannot be blown up and exploded, either, thereby foiling the prankster who delights in scaring you out of your wits when he has emptied the popcorn bag.

The noiseless bag, incidentally, was originated and developed in Michigan by the Grand Rapids Bag and Paper company. The special paper for the bag is treated to provide a soft, cloth-like texture. More than 100 million bags have already been used and it's a cinch that this new bag will find a ready market throughout the country.

Smooth Operations By Legislators

HOUSE passage of a new bill authorizing $1,114,539,974 for construction of flood control and river and harbor projects calls to mind the neat little game many congressmen play in this field.

Authorization is, of course, only the first step in getting action on a project a lawmaker may desire for his district. Congress must also appropriate the money before anything can be done.

In the hope of stemming the record tide of funds for waterways projects, congress has tended to frown on new additions to the list. So here's the typical strategy of a legislator who wants to curry favor at home:

He argues before the public works committee that he only wants his project "authorized" so it will be in a favored spot for funds when the time comes. He gets his way. Then, after laying low maybe a year or so, he goes before the appropriations group and asks for money on the ground that "after all, the project has been authorized for some time now." Perhaps he begs for just a token outlay as a starter. But soon he's back for real money, posing the unanswerable question: "Why waste the money that has already been paid out?" Next, eh? And it works, too.

Tito Break Shows Reds' Fallacy

THE inflammatory exchanges between the Soviet Union and Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia may or may not lead to a conflict more serious than words. In any event, this display of what life can be like within the Communist family of nations is instructive to the rest of the world.

The really interesting part is not that Russia called Tito a Fascist and threatened "more effective measures" to protect Soviet citizens in Yugoslavia. Or that Tito accused Russia of double-crossing his country and otherwise showing an "enemy attitude."

What stirs us is how wide the chasm is between this high-pitched bawling and the perfection and beauty we have always been told would accompany the creation of a Communist world.

Some otherwise rather sensible people have occasionally, in disgust at the confusions of a divided world, hinted that communism enthroned throughout the globe might be a good thing because it would "bring unity."

That world-wide communism would not bring unity is what Tito and Stalin are teaching us. From the first moment Russia verbally attacked the Yugoslav dictator, the dream of sweet, reasonable co-operation under communism was broken.

debt to the rebellious Tito, for without his defiance the lesson might have been long in coming. We can be thankful he has the armed strength to permit him to talk back.

It might be difficult to overestimate the value of this instruction. The idea of a unified world under the Red banner has been one of the chief weapons in Russia's propaganda arsenal.

But now we know that relations among nations would be no more serene in a Communist world than they have been for centuries under a great variety of regimes. We know that Russia and her followers have no magic formula for assuring peaceful conduct among different peoples.

The Tito-Stalin exhibition of unity—Communist style—ought to impel non-Communist countries to redouble their efforts to find a firm footing for peace through reliance on the United Nations, the Atlantic pact and similar joint ventures.

There surely can be no illusions left that there is a better hope of peace if communism spread to every corner of the earth.

DAWN OVER HOLLYWOOD?

(Christian Science Monitor)

It is a well-known fact that just as winter comes in with a white Christmas the days start growing longer. Spring, in fact, is at that time already in the making.

So in these days of movie doldrums there may be a new springtide of entertainment ahead, even though not visible. We have added our lament to others in bewailing the tawdry, stupid, violent, or immoral films which have poured from Hollywood in such profusion in recent years. But we wish to join in the praise for the better pictures which now appear to be in the making.

A group of assorted ladies—speaking for the Protestant Motion Picture Council and the motion picture committees of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae, and the Daughters of the American Revolution—all bear witness to the general improvement in new films. Many more of these, they say, are suitable for whole families or for all adults; for fewer are positively objectionable.

The absence of conspicuous indecency or smirking nastiness is of itself a negative virtue. Pictures may be dull as well as dirty, insipid as well as vicious, dedicated to the sentimental cliché as well as to the passionate cliché. But to clean up the movies is a vital step in freshening them up. And the marked success of several recent pictures in venturing into such new fields as race relations while still achieving superb entertainment quality holds out promise for more adult and adventurous fare ahead.

THE SCORE ON BUTTER

(Wausau Record-Herald)

Considering the price of butter, it can hardly be surprising that the United States is buying 40 per cent less butter than it did 20 years ago.

Yet the Wisconsin dairy farmer isn't doing too badly. Twenty years ago much more than half the milk produced in the United States was separated, and only the cream was sold. Last year little more than a fifth of the milk was separated on the farm, according to a recent report of the bureau of agricultural economics of the United States department of agriculture.

There has been a change in the form in which dairy products are consumed. The American people are buying 16 per cent more fluid milk, 46 per cent more cheese, 80 per cent more evaporated milk, and 91 per cent more ice cream than they used 20 years ago. It's a good score, and a milestone on the road to better public health.

PRECOCIOUS PEDESTRIAN

(Christian Science Monitor)

The baby Mozart ripped off sonatas at the harpsichord. The baby Macaulay reassured his hostess coolly, "Thank you, madame. The agony has abated." But the baby Benson simply stepped out.

The hackneyed term "tiny tot" has taken on new meaning and more diminutive dimensions since Mrs. Benson's three-week-old daughter (un-named as yet) rose during her bath and, resting against her mother's hand, proceeded to take several steps.

Others have seen the baby walk since then, and we are nothing if not credulous in the matter. We shouldn't wonder if by the time she is three years old she were outgamboling Isadora Duncan. Why, after all, should a baby so much time just lying around? The young Benson's enterprise may inaugurate a new era for what have been neatly called "scream agers."

BOUQUET OF FLOWER NAMES

Miami: Ever since my biology days I have pronounced anemone (the flower) as AN-ee-moon. My sister-in-law insists that I am wrong. What do you say?—C. J. S.

Answer: I'm sorry, but I must side with your sister-in-law. "An-ee-moon" is not sanctioned by any authority known to me. Better say: uh-NEM-uh-nee.

St. Paul: I find myself saying "ver-been-yuh" for the flower verberna. Why is this?—Mrs. C. H. J.

Answer: Apparently it's because of false association with the name gardenia. But verberna does not end in -ia. Correct pronunciation: ver-BEEN-yuh.

White Plains: In a botany book I've been reading a very interesting article on lichens and other mosses. Is it all right for me to pronounce lichen to rhyme with kitchen?—C. L. H.

Answer: Sorry, no. "LITCH-en" is a

British Facing Another Crisis

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—The patient is on the operating table. The nurses and the young internes are taking the preliminary steps. Soon the chief surgeons will gather round to decide what must be done first.

Britain's financial-economic system is in a bad way. That is one thing that practically everybody is agreed on. If the present drain on the gold reserve in London continues unchecked, a point dangerously close to bankruptcy will have been reached by Christmas.

About what to do in the emergency there is the widest disagreement. Even though many imports were shut off in an effort to save precious dollars, the trade gap in July was still $160,000,000. This is $56,000,000 less than the gap for June.

NO EASY SOLUTION

The talks between Britain and the United States that will begin in earnest with the arrival of Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps and Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin have been heralded as a crisis conference to find a solution. That is far too optimistic, given the relatively short time that Bevin and Cripps plan to spend in Washington. About all that can be accomplished is an exploratory operation with temporary measures taken to stop the flow of life blood.

But even on these temporary measures there is no agreement. So far as I have been able to discover no responsible official in Britain seriously considered proposing the scheme for upping the price of America's gold in order to show a paper profit that could be used to bail out the British. Obviously such a scheme would never go down here.

One temporary measure the British continue to hope will be possible is a substantial increase in Marshall plan assistance for the current year. While increasing the British allotment by several hundred millions the United States would at the same time make a considerable part of the total available at once.

This, however, is also likely to be regarded as both politically and economically impossible. It is in the context, as one can see with the wisdom of hindsight, of the head-in-the-sand unreality with which the two nations have dealt in the postwar years.

On the British side the easy assumption was that since America needed Britain and Britain's far flung geography and defense system in the cold war with Communism, American aid could be counted on whenever the pinch was severe. On the American side the complacent belief was cultivated that a loan and the monetary help given through the Marshall plan would fix everything up. How ostrich-like this was we are now seeing.

MAY LOWER TARIFFS

There are ways to get back somewhat nearer to the realities of the present moment. An American guarantee to make larger purchases of basic commodities for stockpiling is one way to insure more dollars to the sterling area. If it is argued that we might pay more for buying and stockpiling commodities from abroad, then the answer is that we shall at least be getting something for our money.

On this side tariffs can be lowered still further. Customs regulations can be relaxed or at any rate prevailing regulations need not be interpreted as intending the strangulation of all trade. While these steps will not be sufficient to cure the trouble, they will be a move away from the unreal belief that gratitude for past services is sufficient to keep the wartime allies together. Gratitude is too fleeting an emotion for a solid relationship.

Since steps such as these are not enough, other and more drastic moves will have to be considered. Devaluation of the pound is one which the American conferees considered essential. The British continue to regard devaluation as a doubtful remedy unless it is taken along with other and far more sweeping changes.

The British representatives will be told firmly that it is necessary first of all to reduce costs of production in order to compete in world markets. This would undoubtedly mean abandonment of some of the social services under attack in this country. The possible political effects of such a counter-revolution will be considered in a following column.

There is one overwhelming reality that seems to me to reduce all prejudice and everything else to trivia. Britain and the United States must somehow cooperate if the free world is to survive. To split up would be to give Russia a weapon of incalculable value. It could assure the final triumph of totalitarianism.

common mispronunciation. To be correct, pronounce lichen exactly like the word liken. Say: LY-k'n.

Nashville: In our club we always say "klem-AT-iss" for the flower clematis. But I've been told it's incorrect. Will you please discuss, and also give us the origin of the name?—A. C.

Answer: Better accident clematic on the first syllable KLEM-uh-tiss. The origin is the Greek klematis, "little vine branch."

Norfolk: My Webster's lists "di-ji-TAY-iss" as the only pronunciation for the flower digitalis, but no one I know pronounces the third syllable as "tay." Must I?—Mrs. M. R.

Answer: No. The "tay" pronunciation is found in the elderly dictionaries. But the modern authorities give full sanction to the Standard American pronunciation di-ji-TAL-iss.

Incidentally, digitalis is Latin, meaning, "pertaining to or resembling a finger." The flower of the plant has finger-shaped petals, hence the name. The drug, digitalis, is made from the dried leaves of the purple foxglove, of the genus Digitalis.

The yaupon is a species of holly which is native to the southern United States. It is dictionaries all list yaupon as "YAW-p'n." But that pronunciation is seldom if ever heard in the south. Southerners say YOO-pon, rhyming the second syllable with don. Indeed the spelling usually seen is either yaupon and yaupon. I recommend the pronunciation: YOO-pon.

Hollywood

By Erskine Johnson

Hollywood, (NEA).—Paulette Goddard would like to be the next Mrs. Clark Gable. She usually gets what she wants. But this time I doubt whether she'll make it. Gable is too happy as a bachelor.

Sam Goldwyn turned down Lloyd Nolan for a sympathetic father role in "Beloved Over All," saying: "Audiences just won't accept him in the part."

Yep, the same. Lloyd Nolan who two months ago was proclaimed "Father of the Year."

Wonderful switch in "I Was a Male War Bride." When Cary Grant puts on a brunet wig and impersonates a gal one of Hollywood's best-looking men becomes the screen's ugliest "woman."

Van Johnson finally has that comedy he's been yelling for at M-G-M. It's "The Big Hangover," Norman Krassa whimsy about a GI who almost drowns in brandy when a wine cellar is bombed during the war. The kid comes back with a weird allergy. Every time he gets a whiff of brandy he's drunk.

Running gag in the film is a "talking" dog with Van's voice. Elizabeth Taylor is the girl. Van is wailing: "The dog is cute. Between Elizabeth and the dog, no one will be looking at me."

M-G-M's eastern bigwigs are talking to Margaret Truman again about a film contract. . . . George O'Brien is due back on the screen in a new western series. A big list of western pictures has so many Hollywood Indians on the warpath it's reminiscent of the nickelodeon days. Haircrafters at Max Factor's are turning out practically nothing but coiffures for real or simulated red men. . . . It looks like Lucille Ball opposite Bing Crosby in "Mr. Music."

Glenn McCarthy and UI are battling over the battles Audie Murphy wrote about in "To Hell and Back." Both want the film rights. . . . Songwriter Jimmy McHugh and swimmer Anita Lohest have called it a day. . . . Bing Crosby will do his first Lux radio show in five years Sept. 26. He'll star in a radio version of "Top of the Morning," the movie in which he's the biggest investor.

Reason behind Edgar Bergen's personal-appearance tour until Oct. 1 is television. He'll try out some new routine and give Char some new routines and give Char without moving my lips."

Mich Leison, the director, tells it on himself. When talkies came in he was working as an assistant to Cecil B. DeMille. C. B. said he wanted to use the most dramatic of all sounds in his first talking picture and asked Mitch to give it some thought. DeMille said: "We must find the most dramatic sound in the world—a bomb, a baby's cry, a screen, whatever it is."

"I don't have to think it over," said Mitch. "I know what it is." "What?" said C. B. "Silence," said Mitch. A few days later Mitch was fired.

Adult Center

Dear Editor:

One reader said he would like a hockey rink building in Escanaba. That was his idea. Now here is mine. I think we should have an "Adult Center," a place for grown-ups to go to play ping-pong, a game of bridge, read books library-style, or just generally visit. For those of us parents who like to get out a bit, but don't believe in draping our seats over a tavern stool, where is there to go in a small town? I'd like to know if anyone else shares my idea. Perhaps we could get together and work something out.

"Idea No. 2."

For A Better City

Dear Editor:

As a life long resident of Escanaba, all of twenty years I believe that I am typical of my generation in saying that I am disgusted with the lack of things accomplished. It is practically the same Escanaba that it was twenty years ago and too often deserves the opinion "It's a nice town to visit but not to live in," or "Good for a restful vacation but very unexciting." The average high school student is anxious to leave Escanaba but considers it a necessity. Naturally he wants to live in a community where he can earn a living and have fun.

Among the changes recommended are: A general face-lift of Ludington street. The present red brick store fronts still in the majority could be done away with by encouraging building loans through the city council as was done in the case of Buchanan Georgia, and other small towns throughout the South and East. Modernistic store fronts attract tourists, newcomers with new ideas and promotes civic pride. Ludington street lined with well trimmed spruce trees would bring the feeling of being close to nature to main street besides being a tourist attraction. I would also like to see landscaped parking areas in the backs of stores on every other block, with entrances in the back complete with show windows.

Let's face it, unless major changes are made our town will have no place to go but down. Plastic surgery is painful, but it gets some wonderful results. Let's do it.

Eager Escanaban.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Editor's Note—While Drew Pearson is on vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by his old partner, Robert S. Allen.)

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington.—Now the marines seem to have caught the public-furor fever.

The famed fighting corps has been serenely out of the limelight while army, navy and air force brasshats have starred nervously before sensational congressional probes. But Marine Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine has changed all that down in San Diego.

He has succeeded in stirring up a furious tumult in the area.

The scrappy San Diego Journal is gnashing its teeth at Erskine in boxcar headlines, county and state officials are blasting him as a high-handed martinet, and Congressman Clinton D. McKinnon is demanding a public investigation. Alarmed Defense Secretary Louis Johnson has rushed an assistant to the city to check on the matter.

Cause of the uproar was Erskine's order to use navy funds to set up a private grade school in Camp Pendleton, which he commands. Local and state educational authorities hotly contend this is contrary to California law. They also charge Erskine with being rude and autocratic.

He argues he has acted within his rights. To this, Dr. John S. Carroll, county superintendent of schools, retorted, "General Erskine is nicking the public purse to set up an independent school system in a state whose constitution already provides a public school system. His action is basically un-American. The general apparently carries too much brass to waste his time on mere civilians."

Adding fuel to the noisy clash is the fact that this is not the first time Erskine has rowed with local authorities.

They crossed swords last year over a bus franchise. Oceanside, which adjoins Camp Pendleton, established a bus line to serve families of the post living in the town. Under arrangements imposed by Erskine, the bus line operated in the red for months. Then, abruptly, he barred the municipal buses entirely and granted an exclusive franchise to an outside private company.

Erskine's legal officer at the time was Marine Capt. William H. Daubney. Two weeks later, Daubney appeared before the Oceanside city council as the civilian attorney of the private company.

In this capacity, he offered to buy out the municipal system on conditions his concern got a 10-year exclusive franchise.

RENOVATED CAPITOL

Despite a protracted local building workers' strike, renovation of the senate and house chambers will be completed by December 15, the deadline date. Under spurring of capitol architects, the lost time has already been made up.

Also, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, R., Mass., who was critical of proposed changes in the senate chamber, has become convinced everything will be all right. Capitol architects explained the chamber has been remodeled four times since it was completed in 1859, and each time there were far-reaching changes. Lodge visits the chamber frequently to check on the progress of the work.

RAILROAD PEACE

Robert R. Young, perennial gadfly of his fellow railroad moguls, has undergone a change of attitude. He is on friendly terms again with his onetime rivals, the Association of American Railroads.

Young, who controls Chesapeake & Ohio and the Federation for Railway Progress, has had a number of cordial talks with heads of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads. Peacemaking bond between them is their common opposition to the increasingly completing trucking systems.

Significant indication of the new harmony was the appointment of two of Young's top lieutenants to key jobs in the eastern railroads presidents conference. They are C. & O. President Walter Touhy and Federation President Thomas J. Deegan.

Despite the current good will, however, insiders

Forest Staff Changes Made

Official On Ottawa Tract Transferred

Iron River—Bernard M. Stout, staff assistant on the Superior, Wis., National forest, on Sept. 6 will assume his duties in the same capacity at the headquarters of the Ottawa National forest, of which the Iron River tract is a part, at Ironwood, V. J. Dayharsh, forest supervisor, announced over the weekend.

Stout will succeed John O. Wernham, assistant at Ironwood since 1942, who has been transferred to Cadillac, Mich., where he will be assistant supervisor of the Lower Michigan National forests.

In another personnel change, Daniel L. Ricker, junior forest ranger stationed at Kenton, where he has worked on an aerial photographic interpretation program, will be transferred to Ely, Minn., to fill a similar position.

Wernham has been in charge of timber management activities on the Ottawa since 1942. During World War II he served two years in the Atlantic and Pacific theatres as a gunnery officer for the Navy. He has worked for the U. S. Forest service since 1931 and has been stationed on national forests in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois.

Stout will go to Ironwood with his wife and two children next weekend. He has a degree in forestry from Michigan State college.

Sault Tech Will Open On Sept. 19

The fourth year of college work at the Sault Branch, Michigan College of Mining and Technology, will begin officially September 19, which is the opening day of Orientation Week. On that occasion, according to H. L. Crawford, branch registrar, all new students will start their careers at Tech by means of registration, guidance, and testing procedures designed to encourage efficiency and confidence in campus life. Classes in all departments are scheduled for the following week, beginning September 26.

Pre-registration figures at the Sault Branch indicate that fewer veterans will enroll in September than in previous years. This difference will be offset to some extent by the growing percentage of recent high school graduates who are currently completing applications.

A greater variety of course offerings will be available this year on the Sault campus. Forty-seven of the 131 courses listed in the college bulletin will be offered in the fall term. Of the twenty-one fields of study at the Sault Branch most are classified under the major headings of engineering, forestry, general science, and General college.

Students at Michigan Tech last year came to the Sault from 125 Michigan cities, twelve states, and a number of Canadian communities. Tech authorities look forward to greeting a similar diversity of students who arrive September 19 to begin the fall term.

Feller's Comeback, Extra Inning Magic Keep Indians In Thick Of American Race

Tigers Stretch Win Skein To Eight By Downing A's, 4 To 3

Detroit, Aug. 30 (AP)—Sporting a victory string now eight wins long, the Detroit Tigers were rarin' to go today against Boston's Red Sox—last obstacle in the way of their hopes to rout the east completely.

The Bengals, who continued their torrid pace last night by beating Philadelphia 4 to 3 in a 10-inning thriller, opened a three game series with a chastened and subdued Boston clan.

Detroit would like nothing better than to send the Sox home as winless as the New York Yankees, Washington Senators and Athletics—and incidentally pick up a little ground in the current pennant race. None of the eastern clubs have won a game here this trip.

But Boston, after losing three games to Cleveland and dropping four to the Yankees, is making an all out effort to stop the roaring Tigers.

Boxer Manager Joe McCarthy picked Ellis Kinder, righthander, to go today against Detroit southpaw Ted Gray, out after his ninth triumph.

The Tigers learned last night that victory streaks don't all come easily. They had to battle all the way to post win No. 8 in the current run.

In winning, the Tigers turned up a relief pitcher who may be a lot of help during the rest of the campaign. He is Hal White, ex-Bengal who was recalled from Toledo more than a week ago and took over the mound chores when starter Virgil Trucks blew up in the eighth.

Trucks, who went into that frame with a 2 to 1 lead, started the inning by giving Eddie Joost one of the six walks he issued.

It was a costly one, because Joost came home with the tying run on Ferris Fain's long double. The next two batters went out, but Trucks walked Sam Chapman intentionally and then Pete Suder put the A's in the lead with a sharp single that scored Fain.

White was called in and he quickly got the sign out.

Then the Tigers' Eddie Lake went into action—and before the game was over he had displayed some fancy hitting and base running and scored both the tying and winning runs.

Lake bounced a ball off shortstop Joost's shins to open the eighth and get credit for a double. Seconds later he raced to third on Don Kolloway's bunt and zipped home when Pat Mullin lined to Sam Chapman in short center.

Lake didn't come to bat in the ninth and the Tigers couldn't do a thing. But in the tenth he singled with two out. Kolloway worked a pass off Philadelphia pitcher Alex Kellner. Then Mullin slammed the first pitch into right field and Eddie raced home with the run that meant eight straight victories.

White, who gave up just one hit in the 2 1/3 innings he worked, got credit for his first victory this year. Kellner went all the way and was the loser.

The final score might have read differently without a remarkable fifth inning catch by Tiger George Kell. The Athletics scored once in that frame, and had the bases loaded when Kell raced far behind third to snare Elmer Valo's twisting foul and retire the side.

Sugar Ray Wants Middleweight Title Before Quitting In 1950

Detroit, Aug. 30 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson plans to wind up his fighting career in 1950, but he'd like a crack at the middleweight title before he bows out of the ring picture.

The flashy welterweight champion figures 10 years of professional fighting "is a long stretch and the ring is rough on you."

Visiting here to consider possibilities for a Detroit bout in October, Robinson told reporters yesterday he expects to "fight through 1950 and then quit."

"I'll be almost 30 years old then, and it's time for me to get out."

But first, he's hoping hard that he'll get the opportunity to relinquish his welterweight crown and go after the championship currently held by middleweight Jake La Motta.

"I can still make the welterweight limit of 147 pounds whenever I have to do it," Sugar Ray explained. "But it's a struggle and I don't like to do it. I'd rather take a crack at the 160 pound title."

His five previous meetings with LaMotta, Robinson rates among the toughest of his career.

"He's a hard guy to handle, but I'd like a chance at that title," he added.

If Ray does get into the ring with either LaMotta or Marcel Cerdan, he said he would like to weigh about 151, which might well be eight or nine pounds lighter than his opponent.

"I weighed 153 for my fight with Steve Belloise last week," he recalled, "and that's too heavy. A couple extra pounds cost me some of the speed I like to have."

And spotting a middleweight champion a number of pounds doesn't particularly worry Sugar Ray, who said he had been light "lots of times."

Robinson, who starts an exhibition tour through the midwest and southeast later this week, said he would interrupt it for a Detroit bout "the terms are right."

Robinson Slumps But Still Top Man In NL

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Jackie Robinson's batting average may not be slipping as fast as you can say Jackie Robinson—but it has dropped fifteen points in the last two weeks.

The speedy Negro second baseman for the Brooklyn Dodgers still is first in the National league, however, with a clubbing percentage of .349 including Sunday's games.

That leaves him a slump margin of 21 points over second place Enos Slaughter of St. Louis, which just goes to show that Jackie was leading the batters by a country mile before he hurt his leg three weeks ago and began to slide down the scale.

Eddie Moylan Is Making Things Rough In National Tennis Meet

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—If Eddie Moylan keeps pulling off shots that amaze even him, he's going to make things tough for several top-ranking stars in the National Tennis championships.

With the big tournament only 24 hours old, Moylan already had stamped himself as a leading candidate for the role of giant-killer today as the men's singles moved into the second round. The Trenton, N. J., player surprised everybody, including himself, by knocking out Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., eighth-seeded domestic star, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3, in yesterday's opening round.

Flam, former National Junior champion and a collegiate hot shot at the University of California at Los Angeles, was the surprise of last year's tournament when he bounced such seeded players as Gardnar Mulloy and Harry Likas before bowing in the semifinals to Eric Sturgis.

The unranked Moylan's triumph was one of two upsets in the opening round which provided early breaks in the seeded ranks. The other was turned in by Jim Brink, Seattle southpaw, who outlasted Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, seeded ninth among the Americans, 3-6, 6-6, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4.

All the other seeded stars advanced, with the exception of defending champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales of Los Angeles, who didn't play. His match with Jack Geller, former Yale star, was put off until today after a 30-minute rain cut into the program.

Wimbledon Champion Ted Schroeder, making his first appearance in the Nationals since he won the title in 1942, breezed into the second round with a 6-3, 6-4, 6-2, victory over Lieut. Charles Oliver of Perth Amboy, N. J., Eastern Intercollegiate champ while he was at West Point. Schroeder, Davis Cup veteran and a favorite in the tournament, is seeded first, although Gonzales is defending champion.

Bill Talbot of New York, seeded third, advanced by ousting Fred Kovaleski of Detroit, 7-9, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2, and Mulloy, fourth-seeded Davis Cupper from Coral Gables, Fla., downed Jack Tuck of New Orleans, 8-6, 6-3, 6-0.

Frank Parker of Los Angeles, two-time former champion and seeded fifth, moved up by crushing Pierre Canepelo of Italy, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1.

Andy Paton of Ann Arbor, Mich., battled through five sets with Maj. Charles Hippenstiel of Washington, D. C., before winning 6-8, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2 6-3.

City Softball Meeting
All board of control members, officers and players of the Escanaba Softball association will meet in the Escanaba recreation center at 7:30 tomorrow night. This is an important meeting, and all concerned are requested to attend.

Returning lettermen are Iggy Babeldelis, Bob Carlson, Howard Hartman, Norman Jahn, Charles McNamara, J. Minor, J. Nelson, Everett Patz and Eugene Schneider. Other boys who are showing up well and will probably see a lot of action are Rubie, Henry, Quick, Cletus, Chartier, Weber, LaFolle, Clement, R. Gould, Schultz, DeSautel, Bob Minor, MacLean, L. Gould, Demers and Burnis.

In Saturday's scrimmage the team showed lack of polish and finesse, Coach Vieregger reports and he is not too hopeful of a good showing at Ishpeming. It should round out into a pretty good team before the season ends, he states.

Following is the season's schedule:

Sept. 3—At Ishpeming.
Sept. 9—Stephenson here.
Sept. 17—Negaunee, there.
Sept. 23—Gladstone, here.
Oct. 1—Newberry, there.
Oct. 7—Munising, here.
Oct. 14—Sault Ste. Marie, here.
Oct. 21—Marquette, here.

Apologies to Upper Michigan Power and Light softball team. It did choose to run in the U. P. softball meet in Ishpeming. It bowed to the champion Big R Cafe of Powers team, 5-2.

Manistique's Minor, McNamara Co-Captains of Football Team

Manistique, Aug. 30 — Jack Minor and Charles D. McNamara were elected co-captains of the Manistique high school football team at a meeting of the squad Friday evening.

The team in preparing for its first game of the season at Ishpeming next Saturday under Coach John Vieregger.

Coach Vieregger rates his team as "promising." The team is heavier than its average through the years, and the line looks good. Keenly felt is the loss, through graduation, of several steady and dependable men. Notable among them John Paul Quirk, Paul Vezina, backs; Doug Moreau and Ken Smith, ends, and L. LaMourie, tackle.

Gus Dehlin Defends Title In Gladstone Club Golf Tourney

Gus Dehlin Defends Title In Gladstone Club Golf Tourney

Gladstone, Aug. 30—Gus Dehlin, defending champion, won his first match in the annual Gladstone men's golf tournament, defeating Charles Hoffos. A former champion was eliminated when William C. Johnson, tournament chairman, defeated Walter Van DeWeghe, club secretary.

In other championship flight matches, William S. Skellenger beat Howard Hanson, Charles Green, jr., eliminated Kurt Soderberg and David Olson defeated Lloyd Gibson.

In a first flight match, John M. Olson was victor over the up and coming Alden Haglund, while in the second flight J. R. Olson beat George Mathison and Fred Siebert eliminated E. H. Huesener.

Either Elmer Caron or Sylvester Schram will be the winner in the third flight. The former defeated R. P. Davis while the latter was victor over George Pada.

There is a consolation round for players in the championship flight defeated in the first round.

Hearing Opens On Train Issue

McCarthy Presides At MPSC Session

Chairman John McCarthy of the Michigan Public Service commission opened hearings here today on the C. & N. W. petition to discontinue "feeder" train service between Escanaba and Iron River. Fay N. Pierce, director of the railroad division of the MPSC, is examiner for the session.

The petition to discontinue the train service, which makes connections with the C. & N. W. 400 at Powers, is protested by community representatives from several cities in Upper Michigan as well as representatives of railroad labor organizations.

Considerable controversy developed at the session this morning when railroad representatives introduced timetables from bus companies and other railroads in their exhibits supporting testimony. Atty. Fred F. Murphy of Iron River objected to the bus timetables on the grounds that no one was present at the hearing to testify on the veracity of the publications. Atty. Denis McGinn, representing the city of Escanaba, objected to the bus timetables and to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul timetable.

City Attorney McGinn, in cross-examining the railroad's first witness, C. C. Shannon, assistant superintendent of transportation, asked the witness if he knew whether any trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul went to Iron River.

Objection Overruled

Shannon replied, "It's in their folder timetable."

McGinn then countered that the city manager of Iron River was present and could testify that no St. Paul trains went to Iron River. McGinn stated, "The people of Upper Michigan are interested in trains, not folders."

E. Warden, attorney for the Chicago and North Western railway, introduced the exhibits, and is presenting the railroad position. Several times during the hearing he objected to cross-examination by U. P. representatives, and strenuously opposed introduction of freight data in the testimony, on the grounds that it was aside from the issue as stated in the petition presented by the railroad.

The public service commissioner overruled the objection, following a five minute recess, on the grounds that freight does enter into the issue, because some of the trains are mixed trains, and for other reasons stated by the commissioner.

Advertising

Attorney Warden stated that the petition asks that passenger train service be discontinued on this run because the company is sustaining a loss.

On examination by the railroad attorney, Shannon reported figures taken from statistics in Chicago, showing that Iron River, Stambaugh, Caspian and Norway have shown decreases in population since 1920 and that of the group he cited, Iron Mountain was the only one which showed an increase.

Later, in cross-examination, Attorney McGinn of Escanaba produced figures showing recent population trends in these communities.

Shannon testified that the railroad between Iron River and Escanaba was begun about 1882 and that trains 9, 10, 14 and 15 were put in operation in February, 1948. He also stated that the trains involved cover a distance of 92 miles.

Attorney McGinn asked the railroad transportation superintendent if he had any figures which would show how much the railroad had advertised to inform the public of the train service.

Condition Satisfactory

Shannon cited figures which showed that the last time the railroad had advertised the particular trains was in March, 1946. He later explained that secondary trains are advertised by the railroad only when schedule changes are made.

Attorney McGinn countered by saying that if the feeder train makes connections with the streamliner, it would come under the general classification.

A move by the railroad stating that the Iron Mountain-Kingsford line ran parallel to the C&NW passenger line was met by Attorney Murphy of Iron River who, through cross examination, showed that the line ran parallel for only 11 miles, and that the total distance involved, for passengers to make connections with trains to southern cities, involved 92 miles.

When asked about the condition of the railroad, by Attorney Murphy, Shannon said he found it in satisfactory condition. Attorney Murphy asked him if he was able to see out the windows, and he replied, "Yes."

Shannon testified that the C&NW carries about 66 per cent of the ore from the Marquette, Menominee and Gogebic iron ranges, carried by the Milwaukee road, and that about 34 per cent was asked if he knew how much the C&NW received from the Milwaukee road for use of C&NW tracks, Shannon said that he did not know definitely, but that it was about 25 per cent.

Attorney McGinn introduced figures on tonnage carried from the mines in Iron county to Escanaba, showing that since 1939, from two to over six million tons of ore were carried annually from the mines. Attorney McGinn then pointed out that patronage to the railroad, in freight alone in 1948 amounted to about $6,000,000, calculating on a basis of $1 per ton.

Attorney McGinn stated that from Aug. 3 to Aug. 28, an average of 55 persons rode the trains daily.

Shannon said today that the trains involved do not carry mail and that these never have. He further explained by stating that the government cancelled its original contract with the railroad, for carrying mails on the predecessors of these trains, because the government could carry the mail by star route cheaper than by train.

The C&NW railroad is represented at the hearing by Attorney Warden, C. C. Shannon, C. H. O'Hearn, auditor of the railroad capital expenditures, and Attorneys Bernard H. Davidson and James B. Clancy of Ishpeming.

Other Protestants

Among protestants at the hearing are Attorney Denis McGinn, representing the city of Escanaba; Peter Logan, city councilman representing the Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen and Engineers; Ralph R. Finley, representing the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors; Arthur G. Thompson of Battle Creek, representing the Railroad Conductors; C. A. Stanislav of Lansing, legislative representative of the B of RT; Claude Tobin, local chairman of the B of RT; Charles N. Woodbury, Iron River city attorney, for the B of RT&E; Charles Chaisson, retired former Escanaba chairman of the B of RT; Ernest W. Brown, city attorney of Iron River; Howard Vielmetti, city attorney of Norway; John V. Zanardi, Dickinson county prosecuting attorney; Guido D. Valenti, state representative from Dickinson and Menominee counties; Albert J. Wilkie, state senator from Iron Mountain; Frank Rodman, Irwin Sutherland and Andrew Vescolani of Hermansville; Burr Sherwood, of Stambaugh, county superintendent of schools, representing the Ottawa Tourist association; Leo Mitchell, mayor of Stambaugh, Attorney Fred F. Murphy of Iron River, and others.
